But the prorealings of Judge Durell, and the support given to him by United States incops, resulted in establishing the authority de facto of Kellogg and his associates in State offices, and of the persons declared by the Lynch board to be elected to the legislature. We linve already seen that the proceedings of that board extract be sastained without disreguraing all the principles of law appli-cable to the subject and ignoring the disnotion between good faith and fraud.
Your committee are, therefore, led to be conclusion that, if the election held in November, 1872, be not absolutely old for frauds committed therein, Me Enery and his associates in State offices, and the persons certified as members of the legislature by the De Feriet board, ought to be recognized as the legal gov eriment of the State. Considering all the facts established before your com-mittee, there seems no e-cape from the alternative that the McEnery government must be recognized by congress or congress must provide for a re-elec-
